Admission Requirements and Prerequisite Coursework (as of 12/01/2024)

The Master of Science for Teachers (M.S.T.) is an accelerated 39-credit program which leads to New York state initial and professional certification. The program is completed in 21 months (considered five semesters, including summer session). Clinically rich practicum experiences are required throughout the program with a final semester of full-time student teaching.

Admission Requirements for the MST:

1. Completed online application. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis. Students begin the graduate program in the fall semester. A link to the online application and respective deadlines is available at www.lemoyne.edu/graduateadmission.
2. Official transcripts showing a completed bachelor's degree with an appropriate major (or, one scheduled to be completed by the time the program begins).
3. Two references (which will be submitted via the online application).
4. Résumé or CV
5. Personal Statement

The following courses are required by New York State for certification. Only courses with a grade of C or above (for undergraduate level), and B⁻ or above (for graduate level), are acceptable for meeting these requirements.
